Welcome to the October issue of the Diseworth Dialogue

Summer is well and truly over. The swallows have left and the last of the roses endeavours to bloom in the garden. But don't despair! There is still a lot happening in Diseworth over the next month to take your mind off Christmas!

The Harvest Festival takes place on the 3rd of October and the Harvest Supper is on the 8th. Please donate any flowers or fruit and vegetables to decorate the church.

Throughout October, every Sunday afternoon, the Normans will be invading the Heritage Centre! Young people are invited to go along and learn about the Normans and participate in the activities provided. Meanwhile at the Village Hall on the 27th of October there will be a demonstration of Zumba - the latest "keep fit" idea which I am reliably informed is great fun.Details of both of these events can be found in the magazine.

It's so good to see the Village Hall going from strength to strength. Judging from their stand at the Flower Show, the committee are hoping to put on lots of events. So watch this space.

Talking of the Flower Show.....when I looked out of my window on Saturday the 11th, I thought the weather was not going to be kind to us. But for those few important hours, the sun did shine and it made all the difference. It was a great show, as always, and it was lovely to see some new stands and games for the children. Robin Hood stood proud as usual, but with the addition of a trap which had earlier that day taken a bride to her wedding at Hathern church. How romantic!

We have dedicated the centre pages to photographs taken at the show and as usual, you will find all the show's results within. Also in this issue, a lovely article about the Ploughworthians. ("Who are the Ploughworthians?" I hear you ask. Turn to page 14 and find out!) Liz Jarrom has written a fascinating piece about a herd of wild cattle and there are some informative articles too.

If, like me, you enjoyed last month's Grumpy of Diseworth, you will be pleased to know a second instalment will be in next month's magazine.

Finally, as the envelopes have all been collected, I would like to thank everyone for their contribution.We couldn't do it without you.

Happy Halloween! Peggy Tudor

Letter from the Rectory

October is my favourite month. Not only is it my birthday during this month, but I also love the seasonal changes that usually occur.

By now the leaves should be turning from yellow to gold, the evening will be drawing in, but with just enough strong sunshine to brighten our day; and all over the country worshipping communities will be celebrating the Harvest.

This is the season of preparation and anticipation. We join with the animals and plants in beginning to prepare for autumn and the coming of winter. We start to make warming soups and casseroles, and bring out the winter coats and jumpers. We also start to look towards, dare I say, Christmas, and our diaries will begin to fill out for November and December.

But let's not rush through this month. Let's enjoy the sense of anticipation, the slowly winding down of the growing year towards the sleep of the winter. As we do so, let us remember another growing – Jesus at 7 months in the womb. The sense of anticipation of birth, of physical growing; and the sense of breath holding, as the creation prepares to welcome its Creator God in human form.

Gill

Harvest Festival

Harvest Festival will take place in church at 10.30am on Sunday, 3rd October, and hopefully there will be a good attendance to celebrate this traditional annual festival. Gifts of flowers, fruit and vegetables to decorate the church will be welcome on Friday or Saturday.

THE WILD WHITE CATTLE OF CHILLINGHAM

Journeying back from holiday in Scotland, we dropped in to see a group of cattle thought to be the rarest in the world, The Wild White Cattle of Chillingham. They are the only cattle in the world to have remained free from any human interference for 700 years, and are closest to their wild prehistoric ancestors.

After a twenty minute walk we met the warden who took us to see the cattle. We were surprised at how close we were allowed to get to them as on the way down from Scotland, we discussed this and assumed that we would have to look at them over a fence, possibly through binoculars. But no, after instructions from the warden that we must do as he said to ensure safety, we were led quietly into the field where the wild cattle were grazing. We walked slowly to a point where we were about 100 metres from the cattle and he then instructed us to stop and stand quietly.

A few of the cattle stirred, stood up and stretched. The warden told us that the cattle were used to seeing people from a distance but were extremely dangerous if threatened, and would attack any human that got too close. Then as we watched the animals gently grazing and socializing the warden told us some facts about these amazing animals. Cattle are exempt from having to be tagged as any human contact with individual animals result in the animal being killed by the rest of the herd when it is returned. Old animals that die are buried in a pit in the park, and any severely injured animals from fights that have broken legs or have other injuries that would cause suffering and a slow death are shot by marksman, this though is a very rare occurrence.

DNA samples have been prepared from dead animals over the years which have shown that the Wild Cattle are a natural clone. All the cattle are genetically identical due to their very long history of inbreeding. Nowhere on earth are there any mammals more inbred than these cattle, yet they continue to survive and thrive. It is presumed that all harmful genes have been bred out by natural selection. In fact when autopsies are carried out on cattle that die of old age the animals, are mostly free from the usual diseases that plague commercial cattle. The only assistance they receive is hay, fed to them during the winter which is necessary as they are restricted to the 134 hectares of Chillingham Park so can't roam to find new feeding grounds.

A Chillingham Calf

So as we crept away quietly from the Wild Cattle of Chillingham, I looked back on the peaceful scene of cows, calves and bulls all living naturally together and pondered on the privilege of having been so close to some of the rarest mammals on the planet.

Diseworth Millennium Meadow

The Millennium Meadow is available for use by all inhabitants of Diseworth and Long Whatton at any time. It is the perfect place for a quiet stroll, especially in an evening or very early in the morning. Hopefully, the grass will have been cut by the time you read this. All the trees are thriving and some are now quite an impressive size. Most of the special plants we introduced have settled in well and are beginning to spread and produce really good displays of flowers.

If you plan to have a picnic there, please do. Just let us know in advance if a large gathering is planned. Dogs are welcome in the Meadow provided they are under control and not allowed to foul the site. The small gate is always unlocked. Please ensure it is secured when you leave.

Contact: Pat Guy 811119.

DISEWORTH VILLAGE HALL

There are quite a lot of things happening at the Village Hall at the moment. Dave Adcock has organised new doors to replace the slightly aging old ones. They should be installed over the next few days. Needless to say, new doors brings new keys which will help with security as so many sets seem to have been lost over the years. We have recently received a private donation which means we will be installing a wireless Internet service in the hall. This will be available for people who book the hall to use free of charge. As Disewired is not quite running yet, we are waiting for BT to get it installed. We are also installing a sound and PA system with fitted speakers on each side of the stage and we are re-vamping the stage lighting. Also, to celebrate these additions and the impending arrival of a new tea urn, I am putting together a Village Hall Website where hopefully, you will be able to book the hall and get details (and maybe even tickets) for any events that are taking place. The web site will go live in a blaze of fireworks on November 5th.

The Village Hall Committee is also putting together a series of activity evenings and events. To start this off, Jane Cunningham & Jayne Blanchard have organised a Zumba taster class at the hall. Zumba is apparently a Latin rhythm exercise class which, I am reliably informed, results in the participants smiling, having fun and getting exhausted. Unfortunately, although I have had my gold lycra exercise truss specially re-sprung, as it is on Wednesday 27th October, I will not be able to attend as I am away. However, if enough of you attend to make it a regular fixture, I will try to come to the next one.

The annual Diseworth Fireworks extravaganza is being held on Friday November 5th. Gates open at 6:30 with the fireworks starting at about 7:15. We are going to put on a really good show this year and apart from fireworks and food, we have some other entertainment organised.

Finally, we rely on donations and fund raising events to keep the Village Hall running. One example of this is the Village Hall 200 Club which helps us raise some much needed cash. As we do not want to have to rename it The 167 Club, we will be publishing details of how to join in next month's Dialogue. However, even if you are not a 200 Club member yet, scour the pages of this issue of the Dialogue, find the prize draw notification, check who has won and then make sure that you mention their good fortune to them when you are standing next to them near the bar at the pub…

Enjoy the Zumba

The Ploughworthians

I HEAR YOU ASK, WHO OR WHAT ARE THE PLOUGHWORTHIANS, WELL THE STORY BEGINS;

A long, long time ago in the darkest corners of the Plough Inn the challenge was issued by the old enemy from across the motorway bridge "Long Whatton". The challenge was to travel to the heart of their village and to compete in the village inaugural Tug of War competition with teams from their pubs, companies and others. The team was selected from a variety of applicants on their mental agility, physical prowess and no family ties with Long Whatton. A lot of disappointed people but the magnificent 7 to take up the challenge were: Mick "The Munch" Steven; John "The Engine" Clark; Mark "The Mountain" Mitchell; Steve "The Tooth" Frost; Richard "The Roller" Robinson, Kev "The Flyer" Brown and the stroke master being Paul "The Brush" Gretton.

Months of high altitude training took place, sacrifices by all were made, families suffered, jobs neglected but all in a good cause when the day arrived the team would be ready to perform against those from over the bridge. PURE FANTASY!!!

The real story: The challenge came and was left until Thursday when we registered our team from the Plough. Friday we discussed the options and drank large amounts of training fluid. Sunday at the Long Whatton village show

7 unlikely lads turned up and were drafted into the team. Pull one was against The Royal Oak PH. Yes a 2-0 victory, but having seen the other teams it was thought that our job was done but no, the true grit of the 7 Ploughworthians shone through with a mighty encounter against the “Sherwood” team; first pull to the Ploughworthians, the second to Sherwoods and so, to the final and deciding pull. With every effort in their bodies the team, some 60kgs lighter, came through to reach the final. What an encounter!

The Final: Ploughworthians v Harlows; with a hysterical crowd split 50/50 it made it the showpiece of the afternoon. The first pull was a decisive one to the Ploughworthians with Harlows slipping and sliding to defeat. The second was a more dogged affair with both teams giving their all, could the visitors secure the title? NO it was down to the third and final pull of the day the decisive toss was won by “The Flyer” Brown (never lost a toss all day!!!). Both teams took the strain and it looked a certainty to go to the Ploughworthians, but a crucial slip enabled the Harlow boys to pull back, then there came the stalemate. Who would break first? Pride and true grit showed through and the Ploughworthians romped to victory, wild celebrations began and went on long into the night. We all remember the Vikings, forget the history books, the new name to remember in connection with a marauding invading group of men are the PLOUGHWORTHIANS.

Well done and thank you to all those who supported the boys, the trophy is in the Plough where it will stay until someone dares remove it!

Diseworth Annual Flower Show 2010

Many thanks to Pat Guy.

Diseworth Flower Show has a long history going back over 50 years. The Show was revived by the Dialogue Committee in 1996 and the following year a small team including Pat Guy took it over. Pat, who announced her retirement this year has run the Show ever since. It is arguably the one event which brings together all residents of Diseworth and over the years has attracted a considerable number of visitors from neighbouring villages.

It is to Pat's credit that she has improved the Show over the years with many more classes of entry than 12 years ago and with an increased number of trophies and outside activities.

Each year as early as March, Pat has prepared the schedule and in consultation with a small group of helpers has designed the programme, changing the themes of the flowers, photography and arts section in addition to creating new ideas to attract our younger residents. There follows a great deal of planning in advance of the event. Booking the village hall, arranging for village signs, posters, prize cards and prize money is a start. Then there are judges to be confirmed, trophies to be retrieved, and Pat's endless task of trudging around the village collecting sponsorship money and raffle prizes. A lot of work is involved and Pat receives a lot of support not least from husband Jeff, but also from the many residents who undertake specific tasks in the days preceding the Show but by then Pat has laid the groundwork.

The Friday evening before the event sees a loyal group setting up the tables, bringing some down from the village hall loft and placing the covers on them. Class numbers mark entry places and the hall is ready.

Saturday morning at 8.30 am Pat is back at the village hall ready to receive the early entrants. She produces a superb chart which identifies the entrants and their class in the Show. Help is on hand to check people in and direct them to the right spot. It is a hectic time until 11.30 when entries close.

At midday the judges arrive and the hall becomes quiet as coloured spots mark prize winning entries. Then it is a rush to get the cards written and placed on the entries to be ready to open at 2.30 pm. Meanwhile, outside gazebos and stalls are set up and in the kitchen a dedicated team prepare their delicious cream teas. As the Show opens, the list of trophy winners has been completed, photographs taken, the kettle is bubbling and people pour in. But Pat does not stop. She checks the trophies, makes sure the raffle prizes are in order and discusses the afternoon programme with the Master of Ceremonies.

After the presentation of awards, the raffle is drawn and then the auction of the produce takes place. As people make their way home there is the clearing up and returning the tables and covers to their home for another year. By 5.30pm the hall is back to normal, Pat has been on duty for 9 hours and the Show is recorded as a success. Pat has agreed with her group the recipients of the proceeds and these go to village organisations.

The 2010 Show was as good as ever. An excellent atmosphere prevailed, there were more outdoor attractions than in previous years, the British Legion greeted visitors at the gate as they have done for years, hundreds of raffle tickets were sold, the cream teas were sold out and many people walked home clutching trophies, raffle prizes and auction produce.

Pat was thanked and presented with an orchid. She will be a hard act to follow and we wish the village hall committee, who are taking over the Show, our very best wishes, confident they will carry on the spirit of this popular event.

– ditch the workout – join the party

Have you heard of Zumba? – we hadn't until 2 months ago – now Jayne & I are addicted and recommend anyone try it (yes, and the men). It is the first time we had been to an exercise class where everyone was smiling, having fun and yet be exhausted at the end of it.

We had tried all sorts of exercise classes, aerobics, step class, aqua aerobics & the gym but couldn't find one we both liked. Let's face it, working out can be healthy, rewarding and beneficial. Working out can be lots of things, but it's never been known to be an exhilarating experience…UNTIL NOW!

No one feels out of place or self conscious - all ages, shapes, sizes and fitness abilities attend the classes – you just have fun. You don't even have to know how to dance.

The Zumba® programme fuses hypnotic Latin rhythms and easy-to-follow moves to create a one-of-a-kind fitness program that will blow you away. The goal is simple: to love working out, to get hooked. Experience an absolute blast in one exciting hour of calorie-burning, body-energizing, awe-inspiring movements all done to your own level of fitness.

As of May 2010, the Zumba® programme is being taught at over 60,000 locations in 105 countries worldwide with an astonishing 7.5 million participants taking Zumba classes every week. Why? because it's the best party around. Check out the website www.zumba.com or You Tube.

MINDLESS

I thought I would write into the Dialogue in the hope that I might be able to stop what I think is very childish, mindless behaviour.
About 3 weeks ago as part of my job I was asked to market Bleak House on a "To Let" basis. I asked the owners if they wanted me to erect "to let" boards around the property which they agreed to.
Since I have done this one sign has been stolen and on 5 separate occasions the sign at the front of the property has been knocked down.
None of my other signs have suffered the same and none have ever been stolen, so one does wonder what sort of person would be so childish. If the sign was in the wrong place or for some reason causing a problem for some one then the number to speak to us is on the sign so why keep knocking it down?
The person has been seen pushing the sign over on one occasion and I would ask that this ridiculous behaviour stop or I will have no alternative but to report the theft and damage to the appropriate authorities.
Please if any one has an issue with the signs or their location then pop and see us and I am sure we can resolve the matter, but I would guess that someone doing such a mindless act has not got the courage to actually speak to us face to face.

Thank you.

Christmas Greetings Page .... for December's Dialogue

In December's Dialogue we will be having a page for your Christmas/New Year greetings to your friends and neighbours in the village.

This could be instead of, or as well as, sending an individual card to them.

There is no charge for this … but if you would like to make a voluntary donation to Rainbows Children's Hospice that would be very much appreciated … or alternatively make your own donations to your own favourite charity.

Please let me have your message (and donation if you wish … cheques payable to Rainbows Children's Hospice) ..... by email or on paper by the 10th November at the very latest.

Thanks. Ruth Smith ruth@airnig.co.uk 9,The Bowley, Diseworth. DE74 2QL

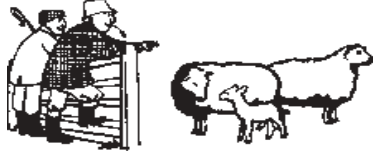
LONG WHATTON & DISEWORTH PARISH COUNCIL NEWS



Our Police Community Support Officer Nicola Stanhope reported on quite a substantial increase in crime in the villages. Villagers are asked to be extra vigilant, reporting anything untoward to the police, including such things as car registration numbers. There has been a spate of thefts of items from gardens in Kegworth and Long Whatton. Once again, keeping an eye open in your neighbourhood might help to solve this problem.

The Chairman reported on a successful Long Whatton Village Show. He particularly noted that the Tug-of-War had been won by a Diseworth team! Co-operation between the organisers and Coalville Wheelers Cycling Club helped to overcome problems during the clear-up on the following day, though there was one unfortunate incident which was reported to a Club official.

Preliminary consideration was given to details of the arrangements for the management of the allotments in Diseworth, due to be available at the beginning of next year. The proposals will then be discussed with prospective tenants at a meeting arranged in October. (NB: Anyone from Long Whatton or Diseworth may still register their interest with the undersigned).

Various actions arising from the recent RoSPA annual inspection of the play areas were agreed. Attempts by the Council to keep the garden area better maintained at The Cross in Diseworth have been frustrated because the contractor who made a start earlier in the year has withdrawn due to the state in which he found it upon his recent return. Councillors are looking at possible alternatives.

County Highways had been very helpful in dealing with questions raised by Councillors at a site meeting about the proposals for speed reduction measures in Long Whatton. The Council has formally welcomed the proposals but has asked that any detailed concerns expressed by individual residents should be taken fully into account.

As part of the Bill Bryson “Stop the Drop” initiative, the Leicestershire Branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England is seeking to recruit Parish Litter Wardens to whom a nominal annual payment would be made. Details are at www.thebigtidyup.org and www.CPRE.org and follow the link to Campaigns.

For Healthy Salads
Think Baby Shoots and Leaves

We all know that salad is good for us, many of us pile our plates high with it believing that the more of it we eat the healthier we will be, but the good news for people that don't enjoy chomping their way through mountains of leaves, is that in the salad world less is sometimes more.

According to research by food scientists, the most nutritious salad leaves are baby ones, not yet grown to maturity. All leaves are nutritious because they contain a wide range of vitamins, minerals and phytochemicals including: carotenoids beta carotene, lutein and zeaxanthin. Beta carotene is an excellent source of vitamin A essential for healthy skin and vision, while lutein and zeaxanthin are important for healthy eyes.

These nutrients are highly concentrated in leaves that are exposed to light, so if you take a mature iceberg lettuce, the most nutritious leaves are on the outside of it, as they have been exposed to light. Yet these leaves are usually discarded in favour of the pale tender inner ones which are not so nutritious. Young plants usually consist of a few loosely gathered leaves which are all exposed to the sunshine. This is why baby leaves are better for us.

This is good news, as even though the days are shortening, baby leaves are quite easy to grow through the winter even if you don't have a greenhouse, a sunny windowsill will do. Sprinkle a few mixed salad seeds into a pot of compost, cover finely with more compost and water well. Then stand on the windowsill and wait for the seeds to germinate. In a few weeks you should have leaves to eat and sowing a new pot every two weeks should ensure fresh leaves as long as there is enough warmth and sunlight. Different types and colours of leaves give a wide range of nutrients, as well as looking attractive on the plate and many other baby vegetables have similar health benefits. Baby spinach is rich in folic acid, Vitamins, A, C, K and E, plus magnesium, potassium and calcium. Lambs lettuce contains omega 3 oil and Romaine is high in Vitamin A and lutein. Young watercress contains high levels of calcium. Last but not least is the pea shoot, the curly leaves of the immature garden pea vine. Weight for weight, these shoots contain seven more times Vitamin C than oranges.

The most important thing to remember is to eat a wide variety of leaves that have been exposed to as much sunlight as possible. I'm off to hunt through my seed packets to see what goodies I can grow over the autumn and winter.

SWITCH ON TO THE BIG SWITCH OFF

11th – 17th October

As winter approaches and we switch on the heating or light the fires, switch lights on earlier and earlier, it is time to consider how to reduce our bills. Energy costs are rising and we have more energy hungry electrical appliances in our homes, such as computers and plasma televisions, so now is a good time to start thinking about saving energy. Saving energy helps to cut energy bills, reduces the amount of fossil fuels used and carbon dioxide emissions released, so helping to tackle climate change.

The Diseworth Heritage Centre will be open on Tuesday 12th October from 10am until 6pm to provide information on energy saving. Experts will be available to tell you how to save money and energy, and help to combat global warming.

Examples of all forms of renewable energy will be on view which help to reduce our impact on climate change. Identifying the right places for these technologies is important for every community. Renewable energy technologies such as wind turbines, solar photovoltaic panels, solar thermal hot water heating and biomass are clean sources of energy production;
Whether you are motivated for environmental or financial reasons, switching off and saving energy makes sense! Come along to the Big Switch Off event at Diseworth Heritage Centre during Tuesday 12th October.

If you own a bicycle, come and find out how to make your own smoothie with the cycle powered smoothie machine and lots of interactive displays to try out.
The event will be fun for all ages and will be of benefit to all.

Transport will be provided to collect and return visitors from Long Whatton. To book a place on the bus please call 853647.

Leicestershire County Council

PRESS RELEASE
26 August 2010

Don't Miss Closing Date for School Places

Parents are being urged to look out for school place application packs which will be landing on doormats across Leicestershire in early September. Around 14,000 forms will be sent out to parents whose children will transfer schools in the autumn term, 2011 and the County Council is urging them to make sure they apply on time. This covers pupils moving from infant to junior, primary to high or high to upper schools in Leicestershire.

Transfer to the next school is not automatic so all parents need to apply – even for their child to attend the catchment area school for their home address. Late applicants may not be offered a place at any of their preferred schools, or even their catchment area school.

Parents need to apply by 31st October, 2010 and can do so in two ways:

- online at www.leics.gov.uk/admissions or
- by returning their application form in the post

Ivan Ould, Leicestershire County Council's Cabinet Member for the Children and Young People's Service, said: "It is very important that all parents apply on time to give their children the best possible chance of being offered a place at their preferred school.

"Last year, we were very successful in meeting parents' preferences but as always, late applicants run the risk of disappointment as schools do become full."

A 'Your Guide' prospectus detailing schools and information about education in Leicestershire can be viewed at schools, libraries and online at www.leics.gov.uk/yourguides

For more information or an application form, please call School Admissions on 0116 305 6684, go to www.leics.gov.uk/admissions or e-mail admissions@leics.gov.uk

Independent advice is also available through the Choice Advice Service on 0116 275 2097 or parent-partnership-service@leics.gov.uk

Notes:
Last year's primary admission figures have not yet been calculated but at secondary level, 96.5% of parents who applied on time received their first preference making Leicestershire one of the top performing authorities in this respect in the country.

The County Council encourages parents to apply via the website and last year 52.5% of transfer applications were made online.

The admissions process adheres to central government rules and gives parents the right to have an appeal heard by an independent panel.
