Welcome to the September issue of the Diseworth Dialogue.

Well, it's that time of year again. The swallows are thinking of going home-in fact they are probably wondering why they came over here in the first place! The combine harvesters are busy in the fields and the hedgerows are full of lovely ripe blackberries.

It's a busy time in the village too. The flower show is just around the corner, followed by the Diseworth working day and at the end of the month the church is holding its own version of the Antiques Roadshow.

At the Heritage Centre, there will be a talk on Romans in Leicestershire and later in the month, the Heritage Centre is joining forces with Whatton House to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the opening of the Long Whatton Maternity Hospital.

Details of all these events can be found in this magazine. Other items of interest in this issue include an update on The Diseworth Destroyer and a reminder about adult learning classes taking place in Castle Donington and Kegworth. There is also some useful information about various walks around the County. So all in all, this month's Dialogue should be an interesting read.

It is also that time of year when we ask you very kindly if you could look down the back of your sofa/armchair and in the pockets of coats and jackets and if you find any loose change, to put it in the little brown envelope provided with this magazine. Thank you.

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Sandie Moores for all her hard work over the years. As you may remember, Sandie stepped down as secretary last year, but has now decided to retire from the committee altogether. You will be greatly missed Sandie. Thank you.

I look forward to seeing you all at the flower show- let's hope September promises to bring us an Indian summer!

Letter from the Belton Rectory

Dear all,

My theme today is journeying. It fits in nicely with the holiday theme and also with my own experience of life.

I have been journeying all my life... from beginnings in a bungalow in Shepperton to the Himalayas in Nepal, from Cricklewood to Belton, from hospital chaplain to parish priest. Now I stand before another journey into retirement.

This journey seems to inspire “awe” in me – trepidation and elation. What will this phase of life hold? What will the challenges be? How do I allow God to develop the ministry I already have? To draw together all the fragments of my life into one of his beautiful tapestries? To let go and let God.

You could write your own life history with the same question posed for you and the future. The answers will be different and the tapestry beautiful, colourful and unique.

Each one of you has added to the uniqueness of my own tapestry by the love, humanity and specialness you have given into my life. So, I would encourage you to continue doing this for Gill. Then her unique tapestry will be full of light and love and colour. And you will be surprised at how your own life is enhanced and beautified. Find ways of supporting her together and individually in her journey; pray for her in season and out; encourage her; talk to her as you would anyone else, laugh with her; offer to be involved in the life of the church and praise God for her energy and youth. Companions on the way are so important.

Please come to cheer me and Ray on our way at my retirement celebrations, which will be held on Sunday 25th October at 10.30am in Hathern Church and will include communion. After the service the church wardens at Hathern have offered to organise a light buffet lunch with wine. I hope as many of you as possible will attend. Consider this your invitation and book the date in your diary NOW. And please make sure other people know about this before they miss the boat!

Until then let's keep journeying faithfully in each other's company.

Letter from the Rectory

Dear all,

Well, what a summer – or rather – not a summer. I think we have had all seasons in one month – heck, even in one day sometimes! I've been thinking about the need to do some spring cleaning (maybe in the hopes that we'll get an Indian summer). This has by in large been prompted by cleaning out vestries in the various churches.

Vestries are a mysterious black hole when it comes to the paraphernalia of church life. Once in the vestry, no one feels qualified to throw it out – including the vicar! So there it sits; a solitary empty packet of Pringles! Used (presumably anyway!) once in a children's talk and then never moved again in case it had some strange liturgical or historical significance.

This need to spring clean is also prompted by the fact that by the time you read this I will have been in post a year. My, doesn't time fly when you are having fun?! So in a sense, this is a new year for me. A time to reassess and evaluate. It is a sad time because it means that it is almost time for Alison to leave. But it is also a good time in that I love new beginnings. It is exciting (and scary certainly, but that is part of the fun).

So please bear with me and who ever comes as Alison's replacement in the fullness of time as we mourn Alison's leaving, celebrate her new life in semi retirement, and as Alison and I both throw out the 'Pringle packets' of life, and introduce a bit of light and air into the dusty areas of the Benefice.

Take care one and all, and enjoy what you can of the summer!

God Bless,

Gill.

Harvest Supper

The Harvest Supper will take place on Friday, 9th October at 7.30pm in the Village Hall. Tickets will remain at £12 per head and are available from all PCC members. Please bring your own drinks. Afterwards we will be entertained by Hazel Salt playing her accordion, and there will be lots of opportunities for some community singing!

Back to Church Sunday

On Sunday, 27th September we will be celebrating not only our Patronal Festival of St Michael and All Angels, but also Back to Church Sunday. There will be a Holy Communion service at 10.30am followed by coffee and biscuits and a chance to have a chat with everyone. Everyone is very welcome to come to this special service, particularly if you have not been to a church service for a long time or have never been to one at all. You can be assured of a very warm welcome.

Leicestershire Historic Churches Trust Ride & Stride & Churches Open Day

The Annual Ride & Stride day will take place on Saturday, 12th September between 10am and 6pm. Most churches and chapels in the county and country will be open to visitors, and all money raised by sponsorship will be divided equally between the Trust and the church of your choice. Sponsor forms and lists of places of worship which will be open are available in church or from the local organiser, Sue Bird, on 01332 810381.

ANTIQUES VALUATION DAY Saturday, 26th September

10.00am – 1.00pm

with “Bargain Hunt” expert
Charles Hanson MRICS

£2 per item to be valued

Our monthly Coffee Morning on Saturday, 26th September will have an added attraction – as well as the usual Fair Trade, books, bric-a-brac, raffle and coffee we are delighted that a special guest will be Charles Hanson, MRICS, popular local auctioneer and valuer of antiques. Charles and a colleague will be joining us for an Antiques Valuation Day from 10am until 1pm. There will be a charge of £2 for each item you bring to be valued.

Hansons Auctioneers and Valuers are based in Derbyshire. The company is managed by Charles Hanson who established Hansons Auctioneers in 2005. Charles began his career at Christies, London and was subsequently employed within fine auction houses in Cheshire, Nottinghamshire and Staffordshire as a general valuer which provided valuable experience.

He is of course well known as a regular expert on the BBC1 television programme “Bargain Hunt” and we are extremely pleased that he is coming to Diseworth and hope you will bring along a good variety of antiques for him to value. This will be done in complete confidence.

If you wish to sell an item in one of Hanson’s specialist sales Mr Hanson will be able to arrange this.

Diseworth Flower Show - Reminders

Diseworth Flower Show takes place on Saturday, September 12th, its traditional slot – the second Saturday of the month. Last year we had excellent weather and a very good turn-out so we are keeping our fingers crossed. Do try and come if you can, there are lots of attractions and we hope that the entries will be of the usual high standard.

If you have never “had a go” before, why not try this year. There are extra photography classes and a new twist to some of the more traditional classes.

The promised floral arrangement demonstration by Iris Tebbutt which will include the construction of a Tussie-Mussie – class 17. This takes place on Monday, September 7th. All are welcome. See the Women’s Group page for full details.

Please do support Anna Groves’ Tombola stall in aid of the new Village Hall gates. This cause, together with the British Legion and LOROS, will be the main beneficiary of this year’s show.

This year the Presentation of the Trophies will be made by the new chairman of the Long Whatton & Diseworth Parish Council – Mr Tom Wilkins of Long Whatton – whom we are most happy to welcome.

If you have not yet received a copy of the full Show Schedule, or if you would like extra copies for friends or family, do please contact Pat Guy – 811119.

Sunflower Measuring will take place on the afternoon of Friday, September 4th - starting at 2pm. If you have a plant to be measured - please let Pat Guy know before 12.00 Noon that day. Ring 811119 or pop a note into 51 The Woodcroft with your name, address and a tel. no.

Entries on the Day

Please remember that the Village Hall is open for Show Entries between 9.00 am and 11.30 am on the morning of the Show. A further half-hour is then allowed for the arranging of your exhibit, but all exhibitors must leave the Hall by 12 Noon when the judging will commence.

If you are absolutely unable to attend during these hours, arrangements can be made to leave entries with one of the stewards. Please contact Pat Guy if this is necessary.

KEGWORTH VINTAGE AGRICULTURAL CLUB

& THE FORD AND FORDSON ASSOCIATION ARE HOLDING THE 4th CHARITY

WORKING DAY & PLOUGHING MATCH

LANGLEY PRIORY

By kind permission of the Wagstaff family

SUNDAY 13th SEPTEMBER 2009

Diseworth Working Day

The Kegworth Vintage Agricultural Club and the Ford and Fordson Association are holding their fourth charity fundraiser for the Air Ambulance and local charities at Langley Priory, Diseworth on Sunday 13th September 2009.

Last year the clubs gave away more than £7,000 - nearly double the amount raised from the first year, with large numbers of the public attending.

The main event will be a large ploughing match, commencing at 10 a.m. Ford and Fordson will have a large display of working tractors - County, Roadless, Doe, Marshall, Fords etc., from all around the country. Crawlers and other makes of tractors will also be working and there will be at least four teams of Shire Horses.

Each club will have large displays of tractors from vintage to new, as well as implements, engines and vehicles. There will be trade stands of all types, both inside and outside of the marquees, to include local produce, crafts, parts, hardware, etc. Also there will be a hog roast, refreshments, bar, raffles, etc., (Stands and marquees are on grass)

Admission £5 Under 14s free
All proceeds to the above charities

THE YELLOW PERIL

All along the motorways, railway tracks, waste ground and now more worryingly in fields, you can see it. It is hard to miss with its bright yellow flowers nodding in the wind. In fact this cheery looking plant can be a danger to all forms of livestock and if you haven't guessed already, it is of course, ragwort.

Over the years it seems to have spread far and wide, but in fact it is a native of this country, unlike its cousin the Oxford ragwort which originally escaped from Oxford's Botanic Gardens. Common ragwort is a real pest to anyone who keeps any type of livestock, but especially cattle and horses. This is because it contains pyrrolizidine alkaloids, which are harmless when the plant is touched, but become poisonous when consumed and digested.

When the plant is growing in a field, livestock are unlikely to touch it unless they are very hungry. The big problem starts if the ragwort is cut down and dried, as when a crop of hay is taken, and then livestock will eat it. As the animals' liver processes the toxins, liver cells are destroyed. If the animal eats a large amount of ragwort in one go or significant amounts repeatedly over a long period of time, the animal can die from a type of cirrhosis. The toxins don't accumulate in the animal's body; it is the slow destruction of the liver cells that does the damage. Traditionally, livestock owners pull up individual plants and destroy them, but this can be impractical when there are many plants, and it is not always effective, as ragwort is difficult to pull out completely. Often some of the root is left behind and this will produce a fresh plant next year.

Each plant can produce thousands of seeds which blow away in the wind to colonize new areas. The only effective control is spraying with herbicide if the plants can't be dug up completely. On the positive side, ragwort is a host plant for many insects, in fact 30 different invertebrates, some rare, are wholly dependant on the common ragwort plant. The most striking and best known is the caterpillar of the cinnabar moth which absorbs the alkaloids from the plant, and so is distasteful to predators, as advertised by its striking black and yellow colouring. The adult moths are black and red, and again unattractive to predators.

Ragwort is pollinated by many bees, flies, moths and butterflies, and honey from areas where lots of ragwort is flowering has been shown to contain traces of its alkaloids, but in quantities too minute to be of danger if the honey is consumed.

I guess that livestock owners will have to continue to control this weed locally on their land to protect their stock, and the insects will thrive on it in the many places where it continues to grow wild.

Planet Earth

Since the inception of life on Earth, all flora and fauna has existed through its ability to compete for food and its ability to adapt to varying climatic conditions to survive.

The advent of today's humans with their power of thought and reasoning "rocked the boat" somewhat. Until then planet Earth had a great say on what survived.

Mankind has moved the barriers to all the basic restrictions of food, shelter and procreation. In effect mankind has said we are so clever, we can live on our planet and do to it what we will.

If "global warming" is a fact, should not the world's leaders and intellectuals realise that to live in harmony with our planet necessitates a major reduction in world population.

Should not Britain set an example and take a long hard look at the way our country is heading and what steps are needed to once again give a lead to the rest of the world?

Diseworth Millennium Meadow

The Millennium Meadow is available for use by all inhabitants of Diseworth and Long Whatton at any time. It is the perfect place for a quiet stroll, especially in an evening or very early in the morning. The grass was cut in early July, and thanks to the persistent rain, has grown back very well and all the trees are thriving. All the rain has, however, meant that we have not been able to dispose of all the cut grass. Please do not disturb the large pile which remains.

If you plan to have a picnic there, please do. Just let us know in advance if a large gathering is planned. Dogs are welcome in the Meadow provided they are under control and not allowed to foul the site. The small gate is always unlocked. Please ensure it is secured when you leave.

WHATTON HOUSE MATERNITY HOME REUNION and DISEWORTH HERITAGE CENTRE EXHIBITION

Whatton House was offered to the Government in September 1939 as a Maternity Home. During the years of the Second World War more than 2000 babies were born there to mothers from London and the West Midlands as well as Loughborough and the local villages.

To commemorate the 70th Anniversary, Long Whatton History Society and Diseworth Heritage Centre have planned a weekend of events. Many of the wartime ‘babies’ will be attending, some coming from great distances. By kind permission of Lord and Lady Crawshaw, Whatton House grounds will be open during the afternoons of the two days and the Heritage Centre will present an exhibition of wartime memorabilia with an emphasis on hospitals. On the Sunday there will be services in the Parish Church and the Methodist Church in Long Whatton.

The exhibition in the Heritage Centre will include a display of wartime artefacts. If any resident wishes to loan any documents or artefacts for display these would be much appreciated, documented and placed in a secure cabinet in the Centre. After the exhibition they would be returned to the owner.

Destructive Destroyer Wins Again

The final boxing contest of the year was held at the Shelthorpe Social Club in Loughborough and was supported by over 250 paying guests.

This was the last fight for the young Diseworthian who, in his first season would have completed 8 competitive fights in just over 9 months. This the most any fighter had completed from his gym, not forgetting one of those was a representative match for the Midlands area.

Fight night for the faithful followers of The Destroyer started on home ground in The Plough followed by a minibus trip to Loughborough where they were joined by fellow Destroyer followers. About 25 very vocal men and women waited patiently for The Destroyer to take to the ring.

The fifth fight of the night and the small arena erupts to shouting “There’s only one Diseworth Destroyer” with the opponent being slightly taller and heavier and with 4 more fights than The Destroyer, everyone was ready for a tough 3 by 2 minute rounds (does not sound like a lot but try it!!).

With The Destroyer totally focused, the bell rang, the opponent had hardly got from his stole when the first barrage of punches were landed and it did not stop with The Destroyer catching his sluggish opponent on the ropes with a good combination of jabs and right hooks to the head. It looked like the referee was going to give a standing 8 count but no, the opponent fought his way off the ropes, The Destroyer was too quick with a telling jab to the head and a couple of body shots that brought the crowd to life. As the noise rose so did the work rate of The Destroyer. The first round came to an end, with a thundering blow to the head by a great right hook from The Destroyer, just in time with the opponent shuffling back to his corner.

Round 2. So often here The Destroyer has relaxed. But not this time. He was at him again with some telling body shots mixed with a solid jab, then came the moment when the opponent caught The Destroyer with 2 solid right hands to the head which resulted in a couple of wild right hooks from The Destroyer. The crowd took breath and so did Robert with a shake of the head he exploded into action, catching his man with continual blows to the head and body. The bell goes.

The noise level increases and with the temperature soaring, could The Destroyer continue at this pace? The answer was soon there for all to see. Those extra hours of training and those extra miles of running paid off. With a flurry of punches to the head and the body The Diseworth Destroyer was on the march to a magical victory. His opponent was stunned several times by not only the power but by the never ending cascade of punches to both the head and the body and the final bell goes not only on the fight but the season and the result is a home win for The Destroyer. More honours were to come with a stunning individual performance, The Destroyer was awarded the fighter of the night.

We can all look forward to the new season in September when The Destroyer has been entered into the national ABA championships and with the right attitude who is to say Diseworth could have their first boxing champion.

This season has been a massive learning curve for Robert and he wishes to thank all those that have spent their hard earned pounds coming to watch and support him, and hopes one day to do justice to the name “The Diseworth Destroyer”.

Thank you to everyone.

The Maligned Mystic who predicted the Great Fire of London

In 1651 the British Astrologer William Lilly published a book warning of a plague in London, followed by a great fire in 1666. When it all came true, rather than being commended for his far-sightedness, 64 year old Lilly was hauled before a parliamentary committee and asked “if you can say anything as to the cause of the late fire, or whether there might be any design therein” – the implication being that he was behind it. Blaming “the finger of God” for the tragedy, he went free. God didn’t seem to mind: after Lilly died in 1681, he was buried in a lovely old church in Walton-on-Thames.

Taken from the Sunday Times magazine, 21.6.09

William Lilly was born in Lilly's Cottage, Diseworth on 1st May 1602. He was educated at the grammar school in Ashby de la Zouch and in 1619 Lilly taught for a short period at the village school here in Diseworth.

Support the Breast Talk Bra Appeal!

I was looking through a copy of 'The Lady' and came across the following:

"During a recent spring clean my friend and I realised that between us, we have over 20 bras that we no longer use. Is there a group that might collect surplus bras for a good cause?"

There are several 'bra banks' across the country, but the Breast Talk Bra Appeal operates nationwide. Donated bras are given to Centrepoin campaigns, Girls' groups and BCR Global Textiles which allocates £1 to Breast Cancer Campaign for every kilo of bras it receives. Bras are also distributed to women in third world countries.

Post your bras to BreastTalk.co.uk - Bra Appeal, PO Box 71, Craven Arms, Shropshire SY7 0WZ.

Ensure that you wash all bras before posting, check the straps and clasps are in working order and attach a small piece of paper, using a paper clip, to each bra giving the size."

I recently sent several bras to this appeal which were almost new and too good to jumble. I thought it a very good idea which perhaps readers of the Dialogue might like to support (pardon the pun!)

“MND is a fatal disease of the brain and central nervous system. It often progresses rapidly leaving people locked into a failing body, unable to move, walk and talk. The mind is usually unaffected”.

As many of you will be aware my Mum (Jackie Adcock) was diagnosed with Motor Neurone Disease back in 2003 and two years later in April 2005 the devastating disease caused her to pass away at a young age of just 44 years.

On Sunday 4th October 2009 I will be taking part in a 10K race in Northampton. The aim of participating in the race is to make people more aware of the devastating and fatal disease and to hopefully give something back to the Motor Neurone Disease Association.

As a personal achievement I would like to be able to run the full 10K in memory of my Mum.

I am kindly asking if you would consider sponsoring me for the event and if you feel you would like too, then I can be contacted from the list below.

NATURAL EXERCISE

We have all heard the good advice about exercising for half an hour a day five times a week, but up to 70 percent of us are still not achieving this for various reasons. The benefits of getting on the move are enormous, exercise for 30 minutes, and the immune system is boosted for the whole day, which helps to keep away infections and even kill off developing cancer cells.

A sedentary lifestyle has the same detrimental effect on the heart as smoking 20 cigarettes a day, and increases the risk of diabetes, colon and breast cancer, osteoporosis, arthritis and makes us more likely to be overweight. Surprisingly, depression and stress are also linked to lack of exercise. Research in America discovered that antidepressants may be of little benefit to some patients in the treatment of mild to moderate depression and that exercising five times a week seemed to be as effective, if not more effective as taking tablets for depression. So, should we all be rushing off to the gym, or installing treadmills in the spare room?

For some this is an effective way to exercise, but many people soon give up as they don't find it enjoyable. Basically, we are designed to keep on the move as this helps to keep blood pressure normal, produce good cholesterol, increase oxygen to the heart and muscles and keep joints healthy and supple. Maybe we have drifted far from home as far as exercise is concerned. Human beings have a deep affinity with nature which is called "biophilia."

Studies have revealed that exercising outdoors is very satisfying and even exhilarating. People who go out walking in nature usually say that they do it for enjoyment, for instance observing wildlife and watching the seasons change. The fitness aspect seems to them a side issue, so the exercise is not seen as a chore. Children playing in a natural environment benefit by burning off excess energy and may be less hyperactive and appear to concentrate better. Adults who walk or cycle in nature, or do regular gardening seem to be healthier mentally and physically, and not as stressed. This is important as chronic stress causes inflammation to our arteries, nerves, lungs and joints, causing us to age faster. So if the gym isn't your thing, put on your trainers and go for a walk and get in touch with nature and experience its healing effects.

If you have a medical condition, consult your doctor before embarking on any new exercise programme.

More than 170 Leicestershire walks to download and print FREE!

There's no doubt about it, walking is good for you. It's good for your heart, it's good for your lungs, it's good for the muscle and bone growth of your children and it's good for your feeling of wellbeing! Strong scientific evidence now supports the many benefits to health of regular walking – it is recommended that we take at least 10,000 steps a day.

Studies show that walking can:

- Reduce the risk of coronary heart disease and stroke
- Lower blood pressure
- Reduce high cholesterol
- Reduce body fat
- Enhance mental well being

Walking offers a great way to help kids get the active habit. If parents express excitement about the prospect of a walk in the countryside, they are more likely to transmit this feeling to their children. It's important to treat the walk as an exploration or adventure and to go at the child's pace, no matter how often they want to stop and look at things; take treats to eat and plenty to drink; and head for some landmark that will appeal to them such as a castle, a playground, an ice cream van or a boating pond. If children experience walking as part of a fun activity they are more likely to want to go again.

So, how do you find out what is on offer?

John Harris, a keen walker, got fed up with the lack of information on walks that were going on in the County. So, he decided that if he couldn't find what he was looking for – he had better create it! So www.walkinginleics.co.uk came into being.

www.walkinginleics.co.uk gives you all the information you need for the best walking in the County:

Details of more than 170 walks to download and print free, details of all the Leicestershire walking groups, maps and walk books – plus loads more information.

So check out the website and get walking!

R N I D HEARING CHECK

Hearing loss can have a huge impact on people's lives, but sometimes there is difficulty in accepting this loss; they may be embarrassed or may not take hearing loss seriously.

The R N I D believe that checking hearing should be easy, and currently offers a hearing check, by telephone or on-line, as a first step towards finding out if there is a hearing loss, and a need to see a G.P. for further advice. A card is included with this magazine that gives more information about these tests.

LONG WHATTON & DISEWORTH PARISH COUNCIL NEWS

July

To fill the vacancy for a Councillor two nominations were considered. In a ballot, Mrs. Linda Downs was co-opted to the Council. She was present, welcomed and took her seat for the meeting.

PC Jason Underwood and PCSO Peri Richardson discussed with the Council the implementation of a 'No Cold Calling Zone' to cover both villages. The instances of distraction burglaries were now considerable and therefore it would be in everyone's interest to participate in this scheme. Help was offered by Councillors in setting this up as it would involve the delivery of information packs to every household and calling upon a number of them to provide verification that the scheme is supported. Ultimately, signs would be displayed to identify the area as a 'No Cold Calling Zone'.

In Chairman's Time, Cllr. Tom Wilkins described his and Vice-Chairman Andrew Cawdell's visit to a most enjoyable Diseworth Open Gardens and Scarecrow Festival. He presented a Certificate of Attendance at a Playground Safety Course to Cllr. Simon Adcock.

It was confirmed that a joint meeting of those interested in the provision of allotments with Councillors had been arranged for 3rd August. It was intended that this would deal with the practical arrangements necessary to move the proposal forward in a practical way. Further details are available from the Clerk.

The Diseworth Dialogue had made a request for financial support and this was agreed. Long Whatton History Society had also asked for financial support towards the cost of their 'Long Whatton Maternity Hospital Reunion' planned for September. It was agreed that some support would be possible and further information about the costs of individual elements of the event would be requested.

It was agreed that the new arrangements for the routine inspection and maintenance of the three play areas were proving a success. Arrangements for specific attention to algae growth and maintenance of the safety surfacing were to be made.

Further information about the proposal for a new bus shelter at Long Whatton had been obtained. It would be necessary to consider this in next year's budget considerations. This would also apply to the cost of a footpath to the Millennium Meadow and it was agreed that the invitation from the Highway Manager for a meeting to consider this should be accepted in order to establish what was possible. Rumours had been circulating about a possible reduction in the bus service but enquiries made at the County Council Public Transport section had shown these to be unfounded. There remained some concern however and the situation would be watched.

August

A small group of Long Whatton children had prepared a presentation to the Council all about the very poor, unpleasant and dangerous state of the bus shelter opposite Piper Drive in Long Whatton. The presentation was excellent and the children were congratulated on it. The children were told that the Parish Council was also very concerned about this, had reported the matter to the District Council (whose shelter it is) and had been promised that action would be taken to put matters right. The Parish Council promised to pursue this and would send details of the presentation and the pictures used, in order to persuade the District Council to act as soon as possible.

A Diseworth resident explained his concerns about the latest development proposals for the guest house at 47 The Green. These were considered and taken on board later in the meeting.

Most Councillors had recently attended several training courses - for Councillors, Chairmen and about Standards and planning issues. Some of the issues raised were discussed and some noted for further inquiry.

The recent useful meeting held with those interested in the provision of allotments had decided that all would identify landowners who might have some suitable land they would be willing to make available for the purpose. The Clerk would write a letter to them, asking the question. It was agreed to fund the cost of the Hathern Band to play at the forthcoming Long Whatton Maternity Hospital Reunion event and also to make a donation to NW Leicestershire Citizens Advice Bureau.

Following the annual inspection of play areas and site visits, it was agreed to accept a quotation of £695 for repairs and maintenance of the safety surfaces. Diseworth Village Residents' Parking Group had submitted proposals for their next stage in their campaign against nuisance parking in the village. Councillors were happy with the proposals and the Group would publish details in The Dialogue.

It was agreed to ask the bus company to request their drivers not to spread false rumours about "a forthcoming reduction in the evening bus service", said to happen from September. According to official sources consulted by the Council the rumours are not true.

There had been correspondence from a resident countering the Council's concerns about cycle racing through Long Whatton. Cllr. Cawdell had spoken to the resident and sent a comprehensive reply setting out the concerns of residents. The Chairman thanked him for the action taken. Despite action being taken to cut back weeds and excess growth of plants at The Cross in Diseworth, it was recognised that the contractor was not a gardener. Cllr. Sue Roberts agreed to see what might be done locally.

The Council had been consulted on a planning application for a change of use from Barbers Shop at Hall Gate, Diseworth to a freight forwarding agency office. Councillors' chief concern was about parking and agreed to ask the Planning Authority to satisfy itself as to the applicant's claims as to off-street parking arrangements.

The Council has noted that the County Council is offering FREE TREES to farmers and landowners to help boost the numbers of trees in the County. Sites on rural land which are visible from roads could be eligible (but not private gardens). Up to 25 trees are supplied to successful applicants. For more details or a leaflet, call 0116 3056920/1/2.

Douglas Maas, Parish Clerk

Village Residents Parking Group

In the last edition of The Dialogue we reported on the adoption of the Terms of Reference by the Parish Council for the Village Residents Parking Group (VRPG) and published its membership with telephone numbers or email addresses.

Our first task is to quantify the scale of the problem of nuisance parking in the village.

We are concerned that the vandalism that occurs to those vehicles left for several days on roadsides in Diseworth, such as damaged windscreen wipers, mirrors, scratched paintwork and deflated tyres has an impact on all vehicle owners in the Village. We can all suffer because the area will become an insurance black spot and premiums will rise if we cannot stop this criminal activity.

This is one important reason for supporting the VRPG's efforts to assess the scale of the problem of nuisance parking and if warranted attempt to bring about measures to deal with it.

There are other good reasons for dissuading outsiders from using our village as a long-term stay car park. For example, access to ones house for those who have no garages, room for farm vehicles to get access on roads in the village and entrance to their fields, space for emergency vehicles to get to properties and people in need of speedy medical attention.

The VRPG needs help from all vehicle owners to be able to identify residents' cars from those of outsiders who park and leave their vehicles for days and weeks on end in our village.

We are requesting that you place a sticker, which we will provide, inside your car windscreen above the license holder. This will be for a limited period only until we are able to count the vehicles and identify them as belonging to residents against those who are clearly nuisance parkers.

We need everyone to take part even though it may appear at present you don't believe you have a nuisance parker to deal with in your location. Please help us to start a process that will help us to define what we have to deal with and how we can do it.

Stickers are enclosed herewith. Please place them in your car by the 7th September and keep them in your vehicles until we announce the end of the Survey. Please do not be alarmed by members of the VRPG looking for stickers in your car.

If you require more stickers these are available from any of the VRPG whose numbers are repeated here:-

Bruce Keeling	850188	Jim Snee	812345

As a final request, if you have 'nuisance' parkers on your street please phone or email any of the above to inform them of the location and type of car and length of stay at the date of reporting.

Thank you for your assistance.

Womens group

With the endless heavy rain storms in July, we wondered whether the barbeque would be a washout, but miraculously it improved the day before and Plan A was firmly in place! Brenda Walker and David Cound kindly offered to host the evening and so barbeques, tables and chairs were transported up to The Birches in readiness for the evening gathering. Members and husbands/partners arrived with sumptuous salads for everyone to enjoy with their chosen meats and drinks. Neighbours, Julie and Colin helped with the preparations and joined in the socialising. Thank you David and Brenda for your warm welcome and hospitality, everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves judging by the merriment.

SUCCESSFUL “NO COLD CALLING ZONES”

Leicestershire is celebrating an achievement in its fight against doorstep crime. The County Council’s Trading Standards Service, working in partnership with Leicestershire Police and Neighbourhood Watch are looking forward to seeing the 400th zone being established in the summer, thanks to funding from the East Midlands Efficiency and Improvement Programme

The zones cover small neighbourhoods where there have been problems relating to doorstep crime such as where residents have been targeted by bogus roof repairers, charity collectors, tarmacers and offers of garden maintenance and have either lost money or felt intimidated into having work carried out. Zones are easily identified by signs attached to lamp posts.

Leicestershire Trading Standards Service monitors activity in the zones and are pleased that most reputable businesses respect the residents’ wishes and do not cold call. Early indications from local crime statistics suggest a marked reduction in both cold calling and doorstep crime.

David Bull of Head of Leicestershire County Council’s Trading Standards Service, said ‘We are delighted that the zones seem to be helping to reduce doorstep crime and meeting resident’s wishes by reducing cold calling. Whilst most businesses respect the zones and do not cold call there are regrettably a minority who take no notice and continue to cold call. Common complaints relate to energy suppliers, businesses selling replacement windows and charity collectors; this often causes frustration for the residents, particularly if they feel pressured into agreeing to something without being given time to consider properly what is on offer. And this will not help residents to spot and challenge the rogue traders and con men who prey upon the more vulnerable amongst us’

Steve Hasting of North West Leicestershire Police says ‘No cold calling zones are part of our campaign to tackle distraction burglaries and the people who commit these offences. The strength of the scheme lies in the knowledge that everyone on the street feels the same way about unwanted visitors and has been given advice about how to handle doors step callers’.

REMEMBER if you have agreed to have work carried out in your home as a result of a “cold call” you are entitled to a period of up to 7 days in which to cancel the agreement. Written notice of your cancellation rights must be given and if this does not happen, the seller cannot enforce the agreement against you through the courts. Please contact Consumer Direct on 0845 04 05 06 for further advice about your cancellation rights, how to avoid door step crime or if you would like a “no cold callers” door sticker.
